

A special presentation with Ed Lyman, Large Whale Entanglement Response Coordinator

LEARN ABOUT HUMPBACK WHALE, ENTANGLEMENT, & RESPONSE

Thursday, February 2nd, 2012 at 6:00 p.m.

Ed Lyman has participated in over 65 large whale disentanglements over the years. He will share his experience as part of the response network that provides safe and authorized response to entangled large whales here in the Hawaiian Islands. The goal is not only to free the animals, but also to gain valuable information as to reduce the threat of entanglement in the future.

FREE PROGRAM

Waikīkī Aquarium Classroom, 2777 Kalākaua Avenue, Honolulu, HI 96815

The Hawaiian Islands Humpback Whale National Marine Sanctuary is jointly managed by the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration and the State of Hawai'i.

<http://hawaiihumpbackwhale.noaa.gov>

